MEMBERS WILL GAG SELVES FOR SESSION

Cabled Correspondence With Major Douglas Is Tabbed in Party Caucus

embassy named by Major Clifford H. Douglas, father of Social Credit, to come here and investigate the possibility of introducing the new economic era.

GIVES OUTLINE

In a 15-minute address to the caucus, Mr. Powell outlined the necessity for unity if results were to be achieved. He said that only if the desired condition of unity were established, would the caucus come out here.

TO TABLE REPORT

Mr. MacLachlan, who declared that he would table a report in the legislature on his negotiations with the Social Credit Board and of his trip to England, submitted a report on these same matters to the caucus on Friday afternoon.

It was learned that the discussions as a whole were harmonious. Asked regarding the attitude of the caucus to the budget, Mr. MacLachlan, as chairman of the board, declared that "Major Douglas is in a way against the passing of the present budget. He realizes that, under the orthodox system of taxation, when we come to the implementing of Social Credit, we shall take the taxation out of the budget."

NO TAXATION

Under a Social Credit set-up, where we will not require any taxation, the taxation features can be dropped from the budget. But as we will not in the Social Credit field, Major Douglas is not at present making any recommendations regarding taxation.

Asked when Major Douglas would be ready to come out here, Mr. MacLachlan said that "Major Douglas will not come unless and until we have attained the desired degree of unity. He is eager to come if we are required to do so."

POWELL TO REPORT

Mr. Powell will report to Major Douglas as to what he thinks the conditions of affairs are and as to what he has to say to Major Douglas. When Douglas comes, he will assume the responsibility of establishing Social Credit and will take such time as he needs to implement the Social Credit as he feels to take on the job when he prepares conditions warrant same."

Mr. MacLachlan said he himself asked the caucus for the tabling of the first pledge, which was withdrawn by Premier William Abernethy and the premier then signed the second pledge, which was signed by Mr. MacLachlan.

The report of Mr. MacLachlan regarding the board's activities so far is as follows:

The first plan of action formulated by the board covered the following:

1—Contacting Major Douglas for his advice and assistance in the technical and administrative, and the introduction of Social Credit in this province.

2—Gathering of all existing data on the various fields in which might be useful from any department, and any other source.

3—The convening of the field for possible commission, gathering together all facts regarding qualification and available data.

Steps of progress made may be summarized as follows: The first of the following cable was sent to Major C. H. Douglas:

"I am appointed by legislature with full authority independent of any interference in relation to Social Credit. I am authorized to request your services as expert with free hand to direct operations in the following fields: (1) to advise on the economic situation. Need you inquire? Cable reply earliest possible date you can come."

This reply was received April 13:

"Problem mainly strategic. Strongly advise you send reliable representative to London discuss possibilities. This course cheapest and most expeditious. My fullest advice at your disposal here free. Subsequent visits Edmonton can be arranged as needed."

On receipt of reply from Major Douglas, it was agreed by the board that I should be sent over to interview him, and the following cable was sent on April 21 to Major Douglas:

"According invitation, calling S.S. Lancaster, arrive London May seventh. Please reserve accommodation for one."

I met Major Douglas at Newton Street, London, Thursday, May 13, and consulted with him Thursday, Friday and Saturday May 13, 14 and 15. As a result of our discussions, Major Douglas consented to send two men who were in his opinion best qualified to appraise the various factors in the political and technical fields, which he would send as a basis for future action. A contract to this effect was drawn up, copy of which is attached.

DRAWN ACTION

Major Douglas expressed himself as strongly in favor of our present plan of action, that of placing the responsibility of obtaining technical advice and the facilitating of its administration in the hands of a permanent board, serving as far as possible constitutionally possible from party political influence.

As a basis for future action Major Douglas considered it most vital that the great mass of the people of Alberta be made aware terminated to have the results that only Social Credit can bring about. With this unity, Major feels that it is useless to go on devising methods which lack of unity would render impossible of accomplishment.

The first of the first representative sent over by Major Douglas, Mr. Powell, is to ascertain whether there is a possibility of obtaining the required unity. If he finds that the great majority of the Social Credit members can unite on a plan of action, which has a plan for results, not method—the method of bringing about the results being left in the hands of the technicians, he will then advise Major Douglas to that effect, and the Major will then make such technical recommendations as he deems advisable.

TO COME HIMSELF

On the acceptance of these recommendations, he has promised to assume responsibility over their execution, and success will be personally come to Alberta and direct the operations, upon this contract is drawn up.

$2,000 EXPENSES

A cable was sent to the acting chairman of the board, Dr. MacPherson, May 19:

"Two experts carrying Douglas's subscription with me, and my advice on situation sailing immediately on receipt of cable $2,000 for expenses. Also cable terms memorandum and date details matured next year, and the Dominion subsidy over amount collected. Douglas has agreed to pay $2,000 for expenses."

The reply was received by Mr. MacLachlan as follows:

"Money cable. FINISH THE EXPERIMENT

Less than two years ago 160,000 people in Alberta voted for candidates known as the Social Credit party. The result was the production of a Social Credit system on the lines drawn by Major Douglas.

A minority of the electors, with whom the Bulletin and most of the newspapers agreed, did not believe, and do not believe, that can be done. But it was the right of the majority to believe, and it was the duty of the Bulletin to report on what they did.

In the interval nothing effective has been accomplished toward implementing the Social Credit plan. Everything happened to excuse the Social Credit members of the legislature from the obligation to implement it. They are bound now, and they are bound to introduce a Social Credit system—or to abandon conclusively this cannot be done.

A representative of Major Douglas is now on the ground to make a preliminary survey.
The Major has undertaken to tell the Social Credit members how to proceed, if they want to proceed. Their duty is to get on with it and not to get away from it. Personal likes or differences on minor issues cannot obscure the fact from the duty to carry on with the task they undertake.

ter of vital interest. And if that supply happens to be found in Alberta, the chief direct benefit will come to this province, and in the larger measure to Canada.

These geologists may find nothing of large value. But they may find evidence of a "pool" that will make the Alberta foothills the greatest wealth-producing area in the Dominion. It is good business to gamble the cost of the survey on the chance of making such a find.

TELLING THEM

Either the censor at Moscow has lost his senses or Mr. Stalin thinks it wise to let a couple of neighboring powers know what is the news in Russia. Despatches from the Russian capital announce a sweeping "purge" both of the military organization in Europe and the industrial organization in Siberia.

On the western front there has been a shake-up involving key garrisons from Leningrad to the Persian border, with a complete change of leadership all along the line. A marshal and seven generals have been arrested, are said to have confessed to treason, and are either dead or on the way to execution.

In eastern Siberia eight industrial executives have been "denounced" in the manner which usually means the denounced ones are in jail and are to be shot.

These measures, the despatches say openly, are aimed to strengthen the frontiers against the two powers the Soviet Union considers its most likely enemies, Germany and Japan.

A few years ago Moscow kept its internal troubles to itself, with imprisonment or death as the penalty for anyone who let the outside world know about them. Now, apparently, it is thought advisable to let "the two powers" know that there are being no such things as military and industrial organization wholesale and retail.

The news between the lines is that the western command of the Red Army was honeycombed by the body of traitors in command of the most likely enemies, Germany and Japan.

Do Forks Need Brakes?

By DOCTOR FRANK MCCOY

The chief problem of early man was how to get enough to eat, whereas one of the problems of modern man is how to keep from eating too much. While primitive man probably gorged himself when food was plentiful, these periods must have been followed by others when food was scarce, but in the case of those living today, there is usually an uninterrupted supply of food so much so that every day of life.

We have considerable evidence that primitive man had difficulty in getting enough to eat, but at present, the tendency is to go on to the other extreme and to consequence danger of over-eating and loss of real hunger altogether.

Normally, the human being who has had enough to eat is warned of that by the disappearance of hunger. He feels satisfied and leaves the table. However, the natural curb put upon over-eating no longer works now that man is tempted to stuff himself by fancy dishes, highly-seasoned foods, and by the usual custom of eating long after he has had enough.

Very few people are alerted down in their eating simply because they are no longer hungry.
Probably, there are many thousands who would benefit from an invention which would put brakes on their forks, so that when the time came to stop eating, the fork would come to a standstill. Such an invention would help to save the lives of those who are now being engaged in shortening their life-span through over-eating of their forks.

The habit of eating larger quantities of food than the body requires is a very strong compulsion. If food is used in excess of the body's requirements, it is bound to slow down the vital processes and eventually to accumulate and become harmful. The excess of food regularly used is the basic cause of disease as it is difficult to think of a single common disease which is not due to over-eating, or to eating indigestibly. Most of the common diseases are caused by eating too much of every kind of food, and especially by eating too much of the heavier foods such as starch and meat.

We can not get very far away from the fact that the fundamental cause of sickness is the continued use of an excessive amount of food.
The bodies of those who eat too much will in time become sick, simply because of this unnatural habit of eating which is being repeated over and over. I can not impress upon you too strongly that food which you lift to your lips on your fork today will help materially to decide whether you are going to live or die.

My advice to most patients who are seeking help in regaining their health is to make some change in their eating habits and as soon as possible begin to apply some of the principles they begin to get results. After practicing these rules of eating for a few weeks, unmistakable benefits begin to appear in the form of increased health and vigor. While diet alone can not be considered the only method of treatment, and while it should be supplemented by other necessary measures, nevertheless, in many disorders the use of a good diet is of such great importance that it is almost the first treatment which should be used. Strictly speaking, right food is not a "treatment" any more than fresh air is a treatment but on account of the remarkable results it brings about, it has come to be considered practically a therapeutic measure.

If you would like to know something about the proper quantities of food to eat, I suggest that you send for my special article called "Proper Quantities of Different Foods." It contains the information you need and a large, self-addressed stamped envelope.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
QUESTION: M. D. W. inquires: "What causes a person to have a severe, splitting headache coming on just after meals?"

ANSWER: A headache of this type is usually produced by some irritation in the gastro-intestinal tract, such as gastric acidity, etc. The patient usually has a burning or burning feeling in the stomach, and it has come to be selected and is made up of various combinations of foods. A simple diet is usually the best remedy. When this symptom continues for any length of time it is wise to be examined.

The Passing Show

By J. S. COWPER

Forecast that Premier W. L. Mackenzie King will shortly retire from active politics is to be made at a book, and that he will be succeeded in the premiership by Hon. Jas. G. Gardiner is made in this week's issue of the Financial Post, published at Toronto. The article, containing five columns of matter, is given leading position on the front page. It is by an anonymous but seemingly well-informed political observer. It is the first attempt at "kiss-riding" to find out who is favored to succeed Mr. King as Premier of Canada.

The article was on the press before Hon. Mr.
Gardiner's recent address at Calgary in which he declared himself unafraid of high interest rates, regarding high interest rates as a sign of returning prosperity.

According to the "Financial Post" writer, Hon.
Mr. Gardiner during his two years at Ottawa has successfully out-paced the claims of Hon.
Charles Dunning to the Liberal succession. Predication is made that before the year is out Mr.
Dunning will have left of public life and will be engaged in the service of private interests.
It suggests that he is "no longer a front-rank possibility for future cabinet and leadership in the Liberal camp."

"Hon. Mr. Gardiner the article says.
"He already controls the western Liberal solidly. He has a reputation of never being out of the news when the time comes to not get him very far. He has also the reputation, however, of never forgetting a service-
... His skill in matters of patronage and of machine technique is nothing short of consummate."

While it is conceded that in an open convention Mr. King would have a strong chance of being elected, it is suggested that Mr. King would win some support from Quebec.
The "Financial Post" observer says:

"But (Col. Rolin) could not carry a solid Quebec vote. Mr. Gardiner's reputation for friendliness towards the French-Canadians in Saskatchewan and the entente he has established with Mr. Lapointe in Quebec would give him a strong support in any balloting between himself and another English-speaking candidate."

Mr. Gardiner, says the article, will come from Ontario through an alleged alliance between himself and Premier Hepburn. It sees in the selection of Mr. King as Premier of Ontario Ontario's new Labor and Industry Board, evidence of the rapprochement between the Ontario Premier and the federal Minister of Agriculture.

How far the "Financial Post" article is intended to further Hon. Mr. Gardiner in his ambition to be Premier of Canada is a difficult thing to guess in the present disquiet condition of the political scene. However, for instance, Premier Hepburn accessible to the moneyed classes of Ontario to which the "Financial Post" is accessible, and the formation of a Hepburn-Gardiner alliance intended to help or hinder Mr. Gardiner in the eyes of the eastern financiers? For his cancellation of the Ontario C.I.O. and his efforts to prevent the C.I.O. to get a foothold in his province he is apparently not very popular.

Political doctrines in Ontario seem to have no significance. While Premier Hepburn is highlighting the C.I.O. and courting with Premier King because the latter refuses to bar out international labor organizations (who are given the right of entry under a mutual agreement with the Ontario government), Premier Hepburn is highlighting the C.I.O. and courting with Premier King because the latter refuses to bar out international labor organizations (who are given the right of entry under a mutual agreement with the Ontario government).

Even the party papers are not in agreement in Ontario. The Toronto Globe, Liberalism's great organ, which recently was purchased by Premier Hepburn, has been made to disavow Premier Hepburn's fight against the Committee for Industrial Organization. It denounces the C.I.O. and its methods of raising money, and denounces the C.I.O. and its methods of raising money, and denounces the C.I.O. and its methods of raising money.

The Ontario political fight has attracted international attention. Roger Ivin, secretary to Hon. David Croft, who resigned when Premier Hepburn dismissed his Minister of Public Welfare, Municipal Affairs and Welfare, has an article in a recent issue of "The Nation" in which he charged that the Ontario labor fight was forced by Premier Hepburn after Hon. David Croft had made a peaceful settlement. Says he:

"The answer is gold. Mining is the biggest money industry and mining con-spectorships are the biggest force in the Ontario capital. ... For a year Ontario mining men had watched American unionists apprehensively and heard with anxiety their reports of union interest among their own members and skin-men."

STAR DANCES

IN NEW FILM

AT PRINCESS

Despite the fact that dancing has always been the thing that Barbara Stanwyck loves most to do, it has always been depicted during her career in motion pictures as she was not to enter with Noel McCoy in the Twentieth Century-Fox drama with music, "Banjo on My Knee" which opens Monday at the Princess theatre.

To Miss Stanwyck's great delight special dance tunes were written by the newly-devised veterans James McHugh and Harold Adamson, and some other than Budin Elson, whom Miss Stanwyck regards as tops in exciting, comic and charmed dancing, was selected as her partner.

One of the surprises sprung by Charles R. Rogers at the Convention of Universal studios was the signing by Universal of a two and a half year contract with John Stahl. This contract will become effective immediately upon completion of Mr. Stahl's current commitment to the University of the Air.

John Stahl has professed some of the University's most outstanding projects, including "Back Street," "Dead" "Only Yesterday," "Imitation of Life" and "Magnificent Obsession."

GIRL: EMPRESS

"History is Made at Night" Stars Charles Boyer and Jean Arthur

Boyer meets girl in the Paris moonlight and romantic history is made.

Which is by way of announcing that you can look forward to seeing dashing Charles Boyer and blonde Jean Arthur, Rialto's newest and most exciting love team, romancing in Walter Wanger's "History is Made at Night," which begins a three-day engagement at the Empress Monday.

This sparkling romance from the pens of Hollywood's madcap writing team, Otto Tuvole and Benjamin Baker, casts Boyer and Jean as Europe's most dashing head waiter and a gorgeous American mannequin who meet in Paris under very romantic circumstances and fall in love at first sight.

STUNNING BACKGROUNDS

The ensuing romance takes them across the Atlantic and back about a crack transatlantic luxury liner, and against a background of lavish modern settings, including the most romantic restaurant of New York and Paris and winds up in a surprise climax that promises to be the talk of the town.

COMEDY-DRAMA

AT DREAMLAND

IS REAL HIT

Belief in the superiority of numbers causes Slim Summerville to plan a personal vendetta against the aristocrats in his determination to outshine his rival, the lovely English girl who is the daughter of the Duke of Devonshire.

With Leopold Stokowski, famed orchestra conductor, Adolphe Menjou, Misha Auer, Alma Kruger, Clyde Cook and Viola Callahan in the top supporting roles, the pretentious picture is well under way after weeks of extensive preparation.

The production is one of the most important on the Universal program. Sets that will match, if not exceed, those of the impressive "Top of the Town" and "The Road Back," two other elaborate pictures, have been created for it by the ace designer, John Harbridge.

Three other pictures are currently in production. They are "Love in a Burgundy," a comedy romance featuring Nan Grey and Kent Taylor; "Westbound Limited," a railroad drama featuring Lyle Talbot and Polly Rowles; and "Reported Missing," an air mystery with William Garigan and Jean Rogers in the lead roles.

Pictures being prepared for early production include "Young Man's Fancy," a big musical for which Alice Faye has just been signed for the feminine lead; "Midnight Harder," "That's My Story," "Hell on Ice," "Law for Tombstone," and "The Lady Fights Back," for which Claudia Morgan planned to the cost Saturday.

BOB BAKER TO

MAKE WESTERNS

The New Universal has a new western star. His name is Bob Baker. But that is a screen name chosen by the studio for a real cowboy whose real name is Leland Rumblehead. He was born on a ranch near Phoenix, Arizona, and but only a famous horseman, having won several rodeos, but he can sing. The very latest wrinkle in the oldest form of movies, the western, is singing cowboys. Baker is to make his western for Universal and he will sing in all of them.

Star of many a rodeo "down by the Rio Grande," Bob attracted the attention of many noted citizens of Arizona. After the day's rodeo work was over he would assemble his men around a campfire and sing, accompanying himself on his guitar, gift from a famous Mexican general.

One day his boss told Baker: "Bob, you're too good to sing good a man to be riding the range all you born days. I'm gonna fire you—and give you a letter to a pal of mine who runs a radio station in El Paso." To attract attention and obtain auditions, Bob sang over the air from El Paso. It brought results. Soon he was singing in Chicago over a national network. Universal scouts heard him. They gave him a test. "Clicker." Today he is under a long term contract at Universal studios.

My dear Mrs. Thorne:
I feel I must write you to explain the incident.
Two days ago which I am sure caused you much suffering.
Your lovely daughter was the innocent victim of a situation which was of purely local origin, and which no one ever imagined would assume tragic proportions.

of course, immediately, fifteen hours later. I appeared all the force of justice as well as my own men. I saw into actions. All roads out of Florida were watched, the highways were guarded. The air was full, six airplanes circled the state. It was, however, not men who managed, by underground means of the state, to get the kidnappers out of the state. Fortunately for us, the kidnappers had the state in which it is not easy to hide, and by making inquiries of the state, we finally picked up the trail.

To make long a short story, the day after the afternoon we had located a farmhouse on the edge of it. Everglades in which it seemed certain Lila was being held. There were 275 men surrounding the house, but there was little chance of getting the house as the house was set in the midst of a large cleared area of the Everglades. The men became impatient, and taking only my son with me, I went to the house. I saw the house through several windows with tear gas guns and then laid heavy smoke screen around the entire property. Under ture the ching gangsters. I'm afraid Lila too was somewhat affected by the fumes.

Well, it is all over now. The Berrere gang is safe behind bars, with a speedy trial promised for them.

If Fred and Lila were in love before, this dramatic occurrence has only strengthened that love. We are looking forward to a happy wedding when you and Mr. Thorne return.

With all good wishes.

Yours sincerely,
HATTIE EDWARD

The monarch ought to be as far as possible ordinary citizen. He should be a constitutional monarch.

The leader of the Federacy contrasted the ceremony with the abdication of the Prime Minister, declared, having far more of responsibility. The ceremony, Mr. Macdonald said, should be used as an occasion for the benedictions for the benedictions over the countryside, the people never more beautiful than at the present time, with the Hawthorn out in the hedges and the chestnuts in full bloom; with the foliage, and so much rain, at the present time. The Prime Minister said: "Punch, as 'the world and his wife leave London, characteristically leaves their farewell to the capital to the Londoners. The sun will shine—but we think you've been wonderful."

Nazi Catholics Must Choose State Or Church: Prelates, 150 Aides To Face Courts

ESSEN, Germany, June 29.—Mr. Heinrich Wolter, president of the German Catholic youth organization, and 150 of his aides will face a Nazi tribunal here Monday on charges of plotting against the security of the state.

The defendants were arrested in February, 1935, after Gestapo agents had found a list of their names during a search of the residence of Rev. John Rossmann, arrested in 11 years imprisonment last April 28 following his conviction on charges of plotting with German Communists for overthrow of the Hitler regime.

OPPOSE REGIME
Mr. Wolter and his followers are charged in the indictment with using every means at their disposal to oppose the Nazi regime and the ideology of the Third Reich.

In their efforts to overthrow the Hitler government the Catholic leaders did not hesitate to work from a bloc with the Communists, the "worst enemies of the state," the public prosecutor will attempt to prove.

The defendants are expected to conduct their defense along the same line as the one employed by Father Rossmann, who pleaded the defense of his youth and his lack of knowledge of the plot.

OPEN TRIAL ASKED
In a collective letter to the Times of London, Mr. Rev. Arthur Mayer, Roman Catholic Archbishop of Cologne, and other German bishops, asked the German government to hold an open trial, allowing the Catholic youth to defend themselves.

Mr. Mayer said that the Catholic youth were not plotting against the state, but were only trying to defend their faith and their country.

CANNOT SUPPORT ADULT IDLENESS

BOSTON, June 29.—Mrs. Roberta C. Lawson, president of the National Federation of Women's Clubs, recently wrote to President Roosevelt asking that neither nor nor in the domestic front, the earnings of the head of the average United States family support the wage earners in the home.

Mrs. Lawson asked that the women's bureau of the Federal government investigate the employment status of "housewives" and that the government encourage the married women who work to the end of the day.

Consideration of the question is further suggested by one of the results of a statistical study of the "housewife" conducted by W. F. Ogburn, a sociologist at the University of Chicago.

It is found that 15 per cent of the women have jobs in the home. There is a further reminder that the majority of the family does not support its women members in idleness.

THE WELSH TERRIER

One of the most popular and desirable of the large breeds of terriers taken by and large in this country, the Welsh Terrier. It is a breed which I think merits more general interest than it at present receives. It is a breed which is not only a good looking dog, but also a good worker.

There is, of course, no question that the terrier type of dog is one of the most popular in the world. It is a type of dog which is not only a good looking dog, but also a good worker.

Attempts failed to find a new champion for the Welsh Terrier. The Welsh Terrier is a breed which is not only a good looking dog, but also a good worker.

MY KITCHEN GETS A LOAN

Typical of the transformation possible in many a home are the pictures above. Upper left: A kitchen of the pre-electric period, which had its "face lifted" by a scientific renovation. Lower right: Modern arrangement of sink and refrigerator. Lower left: Built-in range and convenient working surface. Upper right: The housewife displays her electric dishwasher. Interesting photographs showing such transformations have been obtained by Canadian General Electric and International Nickel.

By E. FRANCES THOMPSON

Most of us have one kitchen in mind when we think of modernizing our homes. It is the kitchen that we want to make more comfortable and convenient for our daily lives. It is the kitchen that we want to make more attractive and more in line with the modern trend of home decoration.

NURSERY IS MOST IMPORTANT ROOM IN WHOLE HOUSE

By DEAN HADLEY

Keep the disease from spreading to your nursery. It is the most important room in the house. It is the room where the future of the family is being shaped. It is the room where the child is learning to live. It is the room where the child is learning to love. It is the room where the child is learning to grow.

LIVESTOCK IN LESS NUMBERS DURING WEEK

In West, Outside Orders Show Improvement, Says Ottawa

OTTAWA, June 12.—Moderation in the volume of livestock offered during the past week had a beneficial effect and the market closed firm, said the weekly report of the agriculture department issued today. At some yards there were slightly higher prices.

Feed cattle featured the market wherever offered, with the volume showing further shrinkage. Exporters reported moderate volume, about half those of the corresponding week of 1936.

"Fortunately," said the report, "there was improvement in the volume of outside orders with packing plants in Ontario taking about 15 per cent of Toronto's total. The week's business was shown some improvement. Two boats carrying 312 cattle sailed from Montreal during the week for Glasgow and Cardiff."

GAINS RECORDED ON OIL MARKET

CALGARY, June 12.—Crude oil prices were higher today, with a gain of 10 cents per barrel. The market was firm, with a gain of 10 cents per barrel. The market was firm, with a gain of 10 cents per barrel.
